

GOP Leader Sees Power Grab

Boy Scout Week begins in Canyon Saturday. Scouts participate in many activities throughout the year locally. Above, five Scouts in Troop 108 of the First Presbyterian Church are shown the proper way to place equipment in a back pack.

BY CARROLL WILSON
Former supporters of the American Party are staging a power grab to gain control of the Republican Party in Randall County, the Republican county chairman said Tuesday.

Dick Brooks said the Republican Party in the county is not split, as some observers have said, but is the victim of infiltration by former supporters of George Wallace who "intend to take over the party."

Almost across the board, two sets of candidates are vying for seats as precinct chairmen in the county.

Brooks said one set is supported by the Wallace backers and the other by the Republican Party.

"I would say the American Party defectors are trying to come back and take over the party," Brooks said. "They're after the gaining of power and a power base to carry on their own political activities."

Brooks identified several of those seeking election this spring as precinct chairmen as the same persons who defected from the Republican Party in 1968 to support Alabama's former Gov. George Wallace on the American Party ticket.

"It's another chapter in the continuing power grab of individuals who would use party machinery to their own ends," the county chairman said. "They are opportunists, coming back pretending they're good loyal Republicans."

Brooks said the former American Party backers "have put together a whole slate of precinct chairmen candidates—most of them notarized by J. Evetts Haley's secretary."

"They are trying to gain complete control of the county for their ultra-right-wing motives," Brooks said.

Haley, a controversial Canyon author and rancher, was defeated in 1968 by Brooks as county Republican chairman. Haley presided over a donnybrook at the county convention that year and then led his own slate of delegates to the state GOP convention.

The move this year is a continuance of what began several years ago in the party, he said, when the then county chairman resigned.

Brooks said at that time, many vacancies of precinct chairmen were filled by the Wallace supporters and they gained control of much of the county's party machinery.

Brooks said during the 1968 campaign, while most Randall County Republicans supported President Nixon—and while the county voted for Nixon—several of the Republican precinct chairmen openly announced their support of George Wallace.

He said several took out advertisements in local newspapers proclaiming their support of Wallace.

Brooks said this year, the Wallaceites are again trying for control.

The county chairman said, though, the "power grab" is not limited to the elections for precinct chairmen. He said Hubert Clark, who is seeking election to the Randall County Commissioner's Court, was "the big honcho for Wallace in this area, during the last election."

Brooks said Neil Braboy, who is seeking election as a county commissioner here, is a "former member of the John Birch Society."

Brooks charged that the Wallaceites are "trying to infiltrate the party on the county level."

"These people have sure learned infiltration methods from the Communists—because they study it all the time, they're so afraid of it—and they see how it can be used to gain control and that's exactly what they're doing."

Brooks said part of the slate of precinct chairmen candidates were brought to his office Friday and part Monday.

Of 21 county precincts, 12 are contested by either Wallace supporters or those backed by the Wallace group, Brooks said.

Only 17 of the 21 precincts have candidates for precinct chairman.

Brooks said Arthur E. Garner, Ralph Cooley, Margaret Head and Fletcher Sims, all of whom are running for chairman posts in various precincts, defected to the American Party in 1968 and that several of them signed (See GOP, Page 10)

Mayor Stroud Makes Surprise Political Bid

In a move which surprised not only area residents but officials of the state Republican party, Amarillo Mayor J. Ernest Stroud filed just before the deadline Monday afternoon as candidate for the bench of the Randall County Judge.

Stroud's candidacy will end the May primary.

It was not known this week whether Stroud would have to resign his position as Amarillo's mayor to conduct the judge race.

Stroud at first had said he would not have to resign the mayoral post.

But, according to a provision in the Texas

Constitution, the mayor

"resigned" when he filed for the Randall County office.

The constitution states that if an officer of a city

"shall announce (his) candidacy, or shall in fact become a candidate, in any general, special or primary election, for any office of profit or trust under the laws of this State or the United States other than the office held, at any time when the unexpired term of the office then held shall exceed one (1) year, such announcement or such candidacy shall constitute an automatic resignation of the office then held."

Stroud was elected in April 1969 and took office in May 1969. He does not leave office until May 1971.

Authorities were awaiting a formal attorney general opinion on the provision at mid-week.

Stroud, who has been at constant odds with the Amarillo City Commission on various issues, announced his candidacy and let it be known that he intends, if elected, to give Randall County residents a chance to vote on whether they desire to remain in the Panhandle Regional Planning Commission.

State Department Team Due Here For Speeches

A team of foreign affairs specialists in Soviet, Arab-Israeli, Eastern and Southeast Asian relations will conduct a series of community meetings in Canyon next Thursday.

The specialists, all members of the Department of State, will speak primarily on U. S. foreign policy during their day-long stay in the city. The West Texas State University student activities council is sponsoring the visit.

From 8 a.m. to 9 p.m. Thursday, the four will talk to various groups on particular areas of policy in relation to current international hot spots.

Ambassador Clare Timberlake, with the Bureau of Public Affairs, leads the speakers.

Others coming to Canyon will be Frederick W. Flott, Bureau of East Asian and Pacific Affairs; Robert H. Munn, Politico-Military Affairs Officer, Office of Israel and Arab-Israel Affairs, Bureau of Near Eastern and South Asian Affairs; and John B. Thompson, Office of Soviet Union Affairs, Bureau of European Affairs.

The program is designed so the team will appear before college, high school, service club and public audiences.

The public is invited to attend an open meeting at 2:30 p.m. in the Student Union Ballroom on the WTSU campus.

The specialists will arrive on the WTSU campus about 7:45 a.m. Thursday and the first session begins at 8 a.m.

Thompson will speak on the U. S.-Soviet Relations during the 8 a.m. session, which will be in room 214 of the old administration building.

Timberlake will address combined classes at Canyon High School on Who Makes and Executes U. S. Foreign Policy. He will speak in the high school auditorium at 8:30 a.m. Flott will also speak to the group on East Asia: Progress and Prospect.

Timberlake will make his same presentation at 9:30 a.m. in the old administration building auditorium on campus to combined classes.

At the same time, Flott will speak in room 212 of the old administration building on Current Goals of U. S. Foreign Policy in East Asia.

Munn will be speaking at 9:30 a.m. on Soviet Inroads in the Middle East in (See STATE, Page 10)

Chamber Board Scores Canyon Merchants

Members of the Canyon Chamber of Commerce board of directors scored local merchants for not cooperating in efforts to attract tourists and keep Canyon residents buying in Canyon.

The merchants were blasted during Monday night's meeting, after board chairman Eddie Knowles asked about the status of the chamber's business committee.

"We've got problems in business," said Chamber Manager Roland Black.

"Those merchants out there (on U. S. 87) haven't contributed anything to it," said Bernard Warren. "Downtown gives financial support. I think we should drop it."

"I don't think they'll (downtown and highway merchants) ever work together," said Gerald Warwick. "I've noticed that. They don't want to do the same thing at the same time."

Knowles said "this town's got merchants that don't care what happens. They fight each other and what we need is to fight Amarillo competition and forget fighting ourselves."

"It infuriates me, this lack of cooperation," Warren said.

When it was all over, the business committee was stricken from Knowles' list of committees to be filled.

In other business, the chamber board discussed the possibility of erecting three large billboards—one on each major highway entering Canyon—telling of the tourist attractions in and near the city.

It was suggested that Canyon's civic clubs be asked to help finance the billboards.

Knowles said he thought a good sign would cost about $500.

Black said the Borger chamber spent its entire $17,000 budget one year buying and erecting billboards on Panhandle highways.

"I don't think we could have a much better project than to get three big signs," Don Max Vars said.

Black suggested the chamber purchase one sign per year for three years.

Dr. Willis Harrison was instructed to investigate the billboard possibility.

The board briefly discussed the possibility of putting women to work on the chamber's activities.

"Is there any way we can put our women to work?" asked Warren. "If you could put them to work, you'd get a lot done."

Knowles noted that Hereford's chamber has a women's group, but no action was taken on the suggestion.

Knowles reported to the board on the recent meeting of Texas Highway Commissioners and the area scenic road committee.

The committee proposes a new road to come into Palo (See CHAMBER, Page 10)

Quiet Cemetery. . . The singing telephone lines break the stillness.

Pioneers Fought Elements Wind Is Cemetery Friend

BY SAM ALLRED

The small cemetery stands in the middle of flat prairie land, where the constant wind can bend the backs of ornamental trees without hindrance from the guarding barbed wire.

Further along the highway the elements have carved the majesty of Palo Duro Canyon, but this is wheatland, with just a small portion set aside for those who fought the elements all their lives.

Inside, the names on the ornate, simple or non-existent headstones sound foreign to the tongue, even as those the tombstones honor were once foreign to the land.

The wind is a constant factor, and it is ironic it causes telephone lines to sing over graves of some who died before the lines were there.

It is a Lutheran cemetery, set aside in 1916 for members of the congregation. They were largely German, and settled the Canyon area in 1909 from a province near the Holland border. They had first tried Nebraska but must have found something in these dry and windy plains.

There are perhaps 30 or 31 graves, with room for three times that many, and the names are a proud testament of Canyon history.

Gerdson, Frieda and Henry and a little apart, Henry H.; Hulda Hickcox; Donald Hartenberge; Wragge, Hermann and Minna; Gerhard Rogge; Leseberg, Alwine and Gustov; and George Herman Albers.

Names with strength, adorning graves where water must be carried for the flowers and trees and a constant fight waged against gophers and coyotes.

There are nine million Lutherans in the United States, but a newly formed committee must do its work well if the cemetery is not to remain occupying a small corner of the prairie.

The committee will help maintain the cemetery and sell lots and wage the fights against the elements and creatures of the elements which must be fought.

But man is not all that dies. Traditions die, and people now look for cemeteries that offer perpetual care and thick grass and abundant trees to shield from the relentless prairie (See WIND, Page 10)

Judge Questions Dump Situation

The Canyon dump ground was again a topic for discussion of Randall County Commissioners Monday and County Judge Carroll Brown questioned the county's involvement in the expense of helping at the grounds.

"Why should the county be involved in the expense of covering up the old stuff?" Brown asked.

"That's the only part I'm interested in," said Commissioner Clarence Beckman.

"Doesn't most of the trash come from the city rather than the county?" asked the Judge.

"I wouldn't say that," said Glenn Dowlen.

"County people have been hauling there forever," said Jim Fletcher.

"I feel like if we could even it up and start from scratch, then we could do something," Beckman said. "We told them (the city) if they put a man on we'd probably pay that man."

Beckman and Dowlen met with city commissioners last week and offered their machinery to clean the existing dump ground.

Bill Butler said no matter what the county does, as long as the dump is not open full-time, the problem will remain.

"The answer has got to be to keep it open," he said.

City Manager Howard Northcutt last week hired a new man to work at the dump from 7 a.m. to noon. Already a shift works from noon to 7 p.m. He said he will hire students to work from 7 p.m. to midnight.

Beckman suggested all county precincts pool their equipment for a week's work (See DUMP, Page 10)

CANYON RIM

I can remember when nomination by the Democratic party was equal to election in this area.

There was only one party. It was the Democratic Party and if you got the nomination you were in. Voters just went through the motions in November.

Then the Republicans began fielding a few candidates. They were only token candidates. They went on the ballot but they were never elected.

All the politicking, mud slinging and name calling went on inside the Democratic Party. There was always infighting and a struggle for control of the party on the county, district and state levels.

Then a few years back, in this area at least, a few Republicans began making serious bids for office.

Here in Randall County Bill Butler was elected to commissioners court. Old timers say he was the first Republican elected to county office since Randall County was organized.

Now there are three county officials elected on the Republican ticket and one who has confessed the "error" of his ways for having run as a Democrat and has been converted to the GOP.

Besides Butler, County Clerk Leroy Hutton and Tax Assessor-Collector Audrey Bruse carried the Republican colors to victory in a general election to win their posts. The convert is County Judge Carroll Brown.

Judge Brown is running for district judge on the Republican ticket.

Republicans have a chance now to dominate county politics.

Has this heady success brought happiness to the local Republican family? It has not.

What started as dissatisfaction became quibbling. Quibbling became infighting and new infighting promises to turn into blood letting.

The revolution began when Dick Bittman, an Amarillo businessman, resigned as Randall County Republican chairman a couple of years ago.

J. Evetts Haley assumed the mantle and the fireworks began. Most of the active precinct chairmen were Haley men at the time but it wasn't long until controversy reared its head and several of the Republican brotherhood were at it hammer and tong.

Dick Brooks, an Amarillo printer, defeated Haley by a paper thin majority for the county chairmanship in the primary. The vote was 898 to 875.

Had the Brooks victory been more decisive the thing might have ended right there. But as it turned out it was only getting started.

Even in defeat at the polls, Haley, who has always had a reputation as a gut fighter, went to the county convention the following week with the reins of the county party machinery firmly in his grasp.

The battle was beautiful to behold!

As incumbent county chairman, Haley gavelled the convention to order, swapped charges with chairman-elect Brooks, pushed through a slate of his supporters as delegates to the state convention and then delivered a stinging valedictory as several county delegates stalked out of convention hall.

When Brooks came to the podium he chided Haley's stewardship of the party. "I will take over June 8 and we will run the party differently," he promised.

"Tactics will be ruthless," warned Haley in rejoinder.

Several of the Haley delegates to the state convention are now running for county office on the Republican ticket.

The battle two years ago was so bitter that not even Brooks, chairman-elect, or Butler, the GOP's first county official, were included on the slate of delegates to the state convention.

Leroy Hutton made the trip to the convention as an alternate.

The delegation supported California Governor Ronald Reagan for President. Brooks charges that after Reagan did not get the nomination at Miami, the Haley group defected to the George Wallace American Party.

Brooks charges that American Party members in the county are making a ploy for Republican party machinery. Anyway, battle lines are drawn between the two factions and Democrats are watching it all with glee.

Just what role Haley will play in the newest uprising is not clear but I'm convinced that the old war horse still delights in the smell of powder.

There is some indication as to that role in the fact that Haley's secretary is credited with having notarized papers for several of the candidates who seem about to storm the Randall County Republican establishment.

A hike and picnic in Palo Duro Canyon State Park was planned for Saturday, Feb. 14 to begin at 10 o'clock in the morning at the loop at the end of the park road.

The hike will be open to all interested persons.

Our World

BY ANN BROWN

There are some truths so obvious that even the most stubborn skeptics accept them. Any man knows that if he leaps off the Empire State Building, he will end up spattered on the pavement below. If he jumps into mid ocean, he will drown eventually-if the sharks don't get him first. And if he stands in the path of an approaching tornado, he will be blown away.

So every rational man will acknowledge that the laws of wind, water, and gravity cannot be defied with impunity, but few seem to be aware that they cannot defy any law of the Universe without retribution. However, any time punishment does not come swiftly when laws are broken, men are prone to believe it will not come at all.

Murder is usually considered the worst crime among men, probably because the results are immediate, obvious, and drastic. And there was a time when adultery was considered a heinous crime. But with the Pill, and public approval, it has become a favorite sport, not only in and out of doors, but off and on stage.

Man has come a long way from the day adulterers were stoned to death. The public proclamation of his adultery with an American actress will probably increase the popularity of the English orchestra leader currently on a concert tour in America.

It is true that tars and nicotine do not promptly demolish the heart and lungs; alcohol does not instantly annihilate the liver and brain; and immorality does not immediately destroy the participants. But faith, hope, and love are the elements that make life worth living. And as surely as heart disease, emphysema, cancer, and cirrhosis of the liver follow in the wake of smoking and drinking, the essence of life is destroyed by immorality.

According to David Lawrence, one of the reasons church attendance has declined drastically is the social-gospel preaching popular in many pulpits. It seems obvious that people who are obedient to God's laws naturally attain personal righteousness. And righteous people have an innate desire to minister to the needs of their fellowmen. So, asks Mr. Lawrence, why do preachers not major on obedience to God's laws, instead of practically ignoring the entire subject?

Another little matter the social-gospel preachers have not explained is why the productive members of society owe so much to the underprivileged, yet the underprivileged seem to owe nothing to themselves or society.

Recently about a thousand college students spent an afternoon cleaning up trash in an Atlanta, Georgia, slum; they also gave their lunches to the local children. All very commendable. One wonders, however, why the residents of the slum-many of them unemployed and on welfare-could not clean up their own trash. And it would be interesting to know how many responsible adults in the slum share their lunches with hungry children. God Himself will not do for us what we can and ought to do for ourselves.

The last rule in the Decalogue forbids us to covet our neighbor's possessions. Yet what the professional welfare people cannot get through communistic legislation, their militant members are advocating taking at gunpoint.

During World War II the production managers discovered that men could produce more effectively in 6 days than in 7. The Creator knew that when He decreed man should reserve one day for rest and worship-another law that cannot be broken with impunity.

Our world is filled with tension, turmoil, and terror. Preachers have the privilege and responsibility of teaching their congregations to live in obedience to the laws of God so they can live healthy, happy, helpful lives.

No man can be truly happy until he learns to help himself. The 10 basic laws were designed to guide man to happiness. But like all guides, they are helpful only when followed.

Evaluation Meet Tonite

An evaluation meeting for the Randall County Junior Livestock Association has been set at 7:30 p.m. today, in the Junior Livestock Building in Canyon.

At the meeting, all departments will be asked to report on their operations with suggestions for improvements being recorded for future use. The entire membership will discuss such items as sale limitations, entry limitations, finances, sifting and other items.

Major decisions, which will relate to project selection for next year's show, will be made at the meeting tonight rather than at the organization's fall meeting. Walter Cranmer is president of the association and will preside.

and working with arts and crafts.

The family holds membership at the Temple Baptist Church in Amarillo.

The first candlelight ceremonies for the Canyon Camp Fire Girl units was held last Tuesday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Sam Bybee with the theme being "Americanism."

The Ceremonial is a serious commitment to the standards that are set forth in the Camp Fire Girl organization and the morals that are being instilled in the girls to live in their everyday life.

Each girl lit a Wo He Lo candle, (meaning work, health, and love) and each candle was a different color designating a different area of Camp Fire life.

As one white candle was passed from girl to girl, each verbally gave a heartfelt thought, piece of poetry, or prose. Many had composed their own poems.

Mrs. Leroy Evans and Mrs. Sam Bybee, guardians, gave a short speech commending the girls for their past achievements and challenging them to future activities.

The girls were dismissed after singing the Camp Fire Law and having refreshments.

Women's Status Commission Addressed By Texas Governor

BY LORENA MILLER
Miss Ruth Cross and Mrs. Ples Harper, both of Canyon, have returned from a weekend in Austin where they were invited to the beginning sessions of a Texas Governor's Commission on the Status of Women.

Mrs. Harper and Miss Cross were among 142 women from 45 Texas cities attending the meetings where Governor Preston Smith spoke. The commission is being re-established to study, recommend and improve the status of women across the state. In his speech to the commission group, Gov. Smith said "we in state government want your advice and your counsel, your criticisms and your suggestions."

"We are here to assess the role of women in our society. We are here to help improve the lot of women in every realm of activity in Texas. We are here to organize women into a viable force in governmental affairs at every level; and we are here to contribute general and specific ideas and recommendations for research, legislation, or any other steps this state might take to advance the cause of women and the interests of this group."

Mrs. Harper concluded Tuesday that she felt the governor "visualizes women as the ones to change the thinking of the areas of the state."

Miss Cross noted that the commission's purpose is "to set up guidelines and make contacts across the state for a future session." She said the commission envisions a May 1970 meeting to include some 5,000 women from all areas of the state.

The Friday night meeting was devoted to the Governor's speech where he urged the commission to devote attention and consideration in "investigating the job talent hidden on the welfare rolls." He related that the "head of the typical welfare family is a woman under 40 years of age with at least one dependent child. She has an eighth grade education or better. She gets less--and in many cases that means considerably less--than $200 a month in assistance. And there is ample evidence that she would take a job paying more than that if an employer would take the time and the trouble to train her."

"I challenge you to find new ways of recruiting and training these women for self-supporting jobs," related the governor, according to Miss Cross and Mrs. Harper.

In other highlights of his speech, the Governor stressed that "a steadily rising percentage of women have made use of their right to vote" and "the commission can have a profound effect in helping us to shape the future and inspire full public acceptance of technical-vocational education in Texas."

The Governor also discussed with the commission members the problems of traffic safety, environmental pollution, and prevention of Rubella, a mild disease in children, which has severe effects on the developing babies of mothers who contract the disease in the early stages of pregnancy. He urged the commission to stress in their hometowns the fact that "medical science has now developed a vaccine for the Rubella (or German Measles)."

He stressed that the "Rubella vaccine is available not only through family physicians but also through local health departments, and, in limited quantities, from the Texas Department of Health."

He informed the commission that "health officials have relayed that in 1970 we enter a three-year danger period during which we could experience another nationwide epidemic" (such as the epidemic of Rubella which swept the country in 1964 leaving a wake of 30,000 miscarried or still-born babies, and 20,000 infants born with multiple handicaps and retardation).

Let us all encourage campaigns in every city and all news media to make our people aware of this potentially dangerous situation, relates the governor's report.

The governor's speech was concluded with a challenge to the commission's women to "make the fullest possible impact and the greatest possible contribution as citizens and as women."

Mrs. Margaret Brand Smith, chairman of the commission, was ill and unable to attend the first session last weekend. Presiding in Mrs. Smith's absence was Judge Sarah Hughes. Among noted guests for the commission's first session was Miss Margaret Mealey, a member of the national commission on the Status of Women, which was appointed by Executive Order of the late President John F. Kennedy in December 1961.

Following the Governor's speech and other business Friday night an action committee was named to make an agenda and outline plans for the sessions Saturday.

Smith be requested to appoint a committee of men and women to act as consultants to the commission; 3. that the commission request legislative action to provide for continuity of action and which will fund the work of the commission; 4. that the efforts of the commission be directed toward opportunities for women to enhance the development of their full potential into reality; and 5. that the commission assume the responsibility to inform the public of the concerns, progress and goals of the commission.

The five resolutions were accepted by the 142 commission delegates and the commission will work through committees set up by the Action Committee.

A commission on the Status of Women was appointed previously by Governor John B. Connally in 1966. This commission made its reports in the form of recommendations and has since been dissolved.

Governor Smith urged that the 1970 commission be an action commission and it was noted during the weekend conference that 15 states presently have Commissions on the Status of Women.

Losing effort. Canyon's Cam Davis and Jan Sternberg (34) under pressure.

Lynxettes Bite Eagles For 28th Win In Year

The Spearman Lynxettes made it 28 straight Tuesday night in Canyon by convincingly defeating the girl Eagles 44-34 before a full house of disappointed CHS fans.

The Eagles never quite got it put together as a pair of Spearman guards and a fantastic sophomore forward kept unrelenting pressure on the home squad.

Jan Sternberg led the Eagles with 16 points as Cam Davis scored 10, Linda Lehman six and Lynette Slack two. The low scoring seemingly resulted from two factors—cold shooting from the floor and pressure from the Spearman defense.

Sheila Patterson, the Spearman big gun though only a sophomore came with one point in scoring total of doubling her jersey number of 15.

Canyon trailed by only one point at the end of the first quarter, as the Eagles fought neck and neck with the fast-moving Lynxettes. Cheryl Davis came down with important rebounds but the Eagles stayed behind through costly mistakes and turnovers.

The Spearman squad continued to roll in the second quarter, breaking Miss Patterson in close to the boards for quick layups while forcing Canyon's Cam Davis to move out and shoot.

The Lynxettes led 20-17 at the beginning of the third quarter and increased the lead to 31-24 by the end of it. Miss Patterson sank 12 of 14 field goals in the second half to keep the game a little out of reach.

The Eagles scored 10 points in the last quarter behind the four-for-four free throw shooting of Linda Davis, but the final whistle blew before the hard-running squad could come close to putting together a strong rally.

The girl Eagles are now 22-8 for the season after picking up a 54-36 win Saturday night against Stinnett.

An exact opposite of Tuesday's defeat, the Eagles led at every quarter Saturday, 10-6, 19-16, 37-22 and 54-36.

Cam Davis was high for the Stinnett game, scoring 27 points, as Jan Sternberg contributed 11, Linda Lehman 12 and Lynette Slack, 4.

Bufs Fall To UTA; Meet Rebels Tonite

West Texas State University's Buffaloes will have a chance to avenge their defeat Monday night to the University of Texas at Arlington in a rematch set today in the Canyon fieldhouse.

The Rebels edged the Bufs 88-84 during overtime play, during which David Wollenman, a 6-7 post man, hit eight points to lead the Rebs to victory.

Wollenman made two free throws in the overtime and cined the UTA win.

After a lengthy road trip into Washington to meet Portland and Seattle, the Bufs were apparently tired during the Monday night spree. Many veteran observers noted the Bufs were not at their best against the Rebels.

The overtime period began after the regulation play ended with a 76-76 tie.

During the five minutes, the Bufs fell behind by four and that's the way the scoring ended.

Dale Blaut, great Buff outside shooter, hit 33 points to lead the losers in scoring. Eddie Fitzgerald and James McCloud added 14 each and Ron Howle and Cleotis Reece added eight each. John Burkhalter and Lou Koning hit three each and David Cole hit 2.

Wollenman ended up with 21 for the Rebels, followed by Sherman Evans, 6-2, who hit 18.

dry up, lady!

Think about it. Your biggest complaint about washday is probably the clothesline routine. With a family, it gets to be a hang up. You can spend a big part of your life hanging out T-shirts, mini-skirts and Hubby's socks.

And sheets, and jackets, sweaters, bedspreads... even curtains. Not to mention the unmentionables.

You don't like lifting, lugging and wrestling loads of heavy, wet wash to the backyard. Then there's always the weather. Now's the time to do something about this bundle of problems with a GAS clothes dryer. A gas dryer does five loads of clothes for the price of one load in an electric dryer. So, dry up with gas.

Firemen Fight Fires In Randall County

Two fires in Randall County had Canyon firemen working Sunday afternoon and then early Monday morning.

About 5:30 p.m. Sunday, six units from the department extinguished a grass fire about nine miles north-east of Canyon near Colony Catherine. Fire Capt. Joe Rice said the blaze burned about 30 acres of grass land. Cause of the fire was a picnic campfire, he said.

About 3 a.m. Monday, five units fought a garage blaze about eight miles northeast of the city. The garage, which was under construction, was owned by C. R. Moldenhauer. Rice said the building was partially destroyed.

Sports Should Be Continued

As a person becomes more physically fit, he becomes more capable of becoming mentally fit, the head of the West Texas State University physical education department told Canyon Rotarians Tuesday.

Myron Dees, himself a Rotarian, said physical education is important to the student and to the businessman and that a person is physically fit when he is able to conduct his job, take part in a recreational activity and have reserve left to call upon in an emergency situation.

Dees said there are several areas in physical education—recreation, athletics and teaching of coaches and p. e. teachers.

He said too often, team sports are stressed in public schools, when in actuality, sports which will have a continuing benefit and enjoyment for the participant throughout life should be stressed.

"My contention is that as we mature and go into a profession and have time to pursue a recreational activity, we tend to do what we're familiar with," Dees said. "People who haven't had experience in a thing are hesitant to take it up as an adult."

He said that as Americans move toward a shorter work

Campbell Back For Masters

Jimmy Campbell, former standout defensive lineman for the West Texas State University Buffaloes, has returned to college this semester to start work on his master's degree.

Campbell, who was a member of the San Diego Chargers' taxi squad this past season, graduated in 1968 after starting at defensive tackle for two years. He has been switched to line-backer by the Chargers.

Amarillo Man Pleads Guilty

Benny Hargues, 32, of 2614 Watson in Amarillo Tuesday pleaded guilty in Randall County Court to a charge of aggravated assault on a female, stemming from a Dec. 9 altercation with his estranged wife.

Judge Carroll Brown sentenced Hargues to six months in jail, but probated the sentence for the period of one year.

Two Horse Club Members Win In Area Stock Show

Two members of the 4-H Horse Club placed in the recent Annual Stock Show in Amarillo in the Quarter Horse Division. Both had registered entries in the adult division of the show.

Skips Miss Bar, a three year old mare owned by Susan Ross, placed sixth among nine entries in the 1967 class.

Skips Miss Bar has given Susan another reason to be proud, for Monday evening prior to the show, the horse was named "High Point" at the Golden Spread Quarter Horse Banquet in Amarillo.

The mare was nominated by points received from the ten best shows she was entered in within the past year and was compared with other entries as having the most points.

Steve Hatch came home with two horses having placed in the one year old filly class. Miss Skip Smoke took fifth place and Amoka's Honey took sixth place out of nine entries in the class Tuesday evening.

Other members of the club registered but did not show among the 253 entries in the Quarter Horse Youth Show held Saturday. It was referred to as the toughest competition ever held in this area for youth according to Mrs. Delton Ross.

Members of the local club entering the show were Susan Ross, Steve Hatch, Stanley Cook, Martha Johnson, and Donna Record.

ARMY FIRST SERGEANT Gene H. Teters, right, received the Bronze Star Medal during ceremonies near Qui Nhon, Vietnam. The presentation was made by Colonel Norris, left. First Sgt. Teters, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Teters of Valliant, Oklahoma, earned the award for outstanding meritorious service in connection with military operations against a hostile force in Vietnam. His wife, Lores, lives at 1419 Creekmore, Canyon.

GREETING:

You are hereby commanded to appear before the Honorable Forty-Seventh Judicial District Court in and for Randall County, Texas, at the Court House thereof, in Canyon, Texas, at or before 10 o'clock A.M. of the first Monday next after the expiration of forty-two days from the date of the issuance of this citation, same being the 9th day of March, 1970, then and there to answer by filing a written answer to the Plaintiff's Petition filed in said Court, on the 13th day of May, 1969, in this cause, numbered 9459, on the docket of said Court and styled IN RE THE ADOPTION OF WILLIAM BRENT WILSON AND RHONDA LEANN WILSON.

A brief statement of the nature of this suit is as follows, to-wit:

Petition by Robert Preston Mann, not joined herein by his wife, Marilyn Ann Mann, for the reason that she is the natural mother of the children sought to be adopted, for the adoption of William Brent Wilson and Rhonda LeAnn Wilson, minor children. Petition alleges that the consent for this adoption by William Benson Wilson, the natural father of William Brent Wilson and Rhonda LeAnn Wilson, is not necessary because the said William Benson Wilson has voluntarily abandoned and deserted such children for a period of more than two years and has left such children in the care, custody, control and management of the Petitioner and his wife, as is more fully shown by Plaintiff's Petition on file in this suit.

The officer executing this process shall promptly execute the same according to law, and make due return as the law directs.

Issued and given under my hand and the seal of said Court at office in Canyon, Texas, this 21st day of January, A. D. 1970.

Classroom Teachers Board Member Addresses 40 Teachers Here Tuesday

Eugene Schoenhals, board member for the state Texas Classroom Teachers Association, was in Canyon Tuesday afternoon and spoke to about 40 classroom teachers from Canyon Public Schools in a meeting at the auditorium of Canyon Junior High School.

Schoenhals complimented the Canyon Classroom Teachers Association for their professional communications agreement with the board of education and said this is a "definite trend to have good teacher communications open with the board of education."

He discussed teacher problems of the '50s and '60s and discussed projects and legislation on teacher welfare which is to come up during the 1970s.

Some points he discussed were a 45 minute daily planning period to be allowed teachers during regular school time; changes in the retired teacher program and the fair employment dismissal program which would allow teachers 30 days to correct problems before coming to the review board on dismissal.

During the business session, the teachers re-elected Donna Wilson as president of the Canyon Classroom Teachers Association. Other

Arlington Man Charged With Forcible Rape

A 23-year-old Arlington man charged with the forcible rape of a South Amarillo housewife Jan. 19 was indicted by the Randall County grand jury Monday on two counts--the rape and one of armed robbery.

A trial date for Curtis Frank Brooks, being held in Randall County jail without bond, is pending the arrival of his legal counsel from Dallas.

Brooks was arrested the morning after the alleged rape just as the airplane he was on was waiting to take off for Dallas. When he was driven to the Amarillo Police Station, Brooks jumped out of the patrol car and attempted to escape but was recaptured after a short chase.

The suspect allegedly entered the home of the housewife by a pretext, threatened her five-year-old daughter with a pistol, then forced the woman to submit to the assault.

After his capture, detectives recovered a coin collection of $118 from his suitcase and $272.70 from his person, including two-dollar bills and silver certificates.

The Randall County District Attorney's office has been notified Brooks is also wanted for rape and burglary in the Fort Worth area.

News Brief

Several churches in Canyon are working to collect coupons and stamps for providing medical assistance for Larry Parks, a ministerial student at Wayland Baptist College.

Parks, who is married and has two children, has Brights Disease.

Any resident desiring to contribute to the project may present S & H Green Stamps, YES Stamps or General Mills Coupons to office personnel at either the First United Methodist Church or the First Baptist Church.

officers elected for the coming year were Guyda Webb, first vice president; Vondell Killingsworth, second vice president; Jean Gallaway, secretary; Robert Green, treasurer; and Treasurer Brasher, parliamentarian.

Next meeting for the group will be April 7 at 4 p.m. at the Gene Howe Elementary School. The meeting will be the final session for the current school year and slated for the program is Edna Stephenson as speaker.

Few residents came to the Randall County tax office this week to purchase their 1970 license tags. Sales of the tags opened Monday at the office. Tag purchasing this year is made easier with use of a pre-mailed registration form. An express line has been put into operation at the office to handle the forms.

Pleads Guilty To Theft

A 17-year-old Amarillo man pleaded guilty to automobile theft in 47th District Court Monday and was sentenced to four years adult probation and ordered to make approximately $1,000 restitution.

David Wayne Roberts, 17, of 2406 Washington was charged with taking a car from the Villa Apartments in Amarillo during the night of January 7. Roberts and two juveniles were later arrested in Corpus Christi while in the car.

The owner of the vehicle said there was approximately $2,215 worth of items in the car when it was stolen, including two implantable

City Signals At Halt Stage

After weeks of preparatory work, the city has reached a dead end in its effort to erect traffic signals at two intersections in Canyon.

City Manager Howard Northcutt said the city has not received poles from the company which was to make the signal parts. He said until the poles arrive, the construction has reached a standstill.

Workers from Lubbock have laid conduit and prepared foundations for the poles at the intersection with U. S. 87 of Spur 48 and 10th Avenue.

"We've been informed the poles are to be here this month," Northcutt said.

The Texas Highway Department has completed construction of a left-turn protector lane and the Spur 48-U. S. 87 intersection for south-bound traffic.

Son's Birth Announced

Mr. and Mrs. William C. Lynch announce the January 19 birth of a son at Neblett Memorial Hospital here.

The infant weighed 7 pounds 3 ounces, measured 20 inches in length and has been named William Ben.

Father of the infant is a junior biology student at West Texas State University. Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. R. B. White of Lefors, Texas and Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Lynch of Perryton.

Two Arraigned For Burglary

Two Dumas men were arraigned before Justice of the Peace W. A. "Bill" Wilson Monday morning charged with burglary by breaking.

Leon Earl Cariker, 22, and Daniel Martin Deen, 18, were being held in Randall County jail late Monday in lieu of $2,000 bond each.

The two suspects are charged with breaking in the Phi Delta Theta fraternity house, located across from West Texas State University on U. S. 87, about 8:05 a.m. Monday.

Canyon Police Sgt. Dean Butcher and Officer Jack Hill arrested the pair near 24th Street and 2nd Avenue after they were chased away from the fraternity house by members of Phi Delta Theta.

Cariker and Deen will be taken before the March 2 meeting of the Randall grand jury.

Voter Count Tops 22,000

Voter registrations totaled about 22,000 through Tuesday in Randall County, according to Mrs. Audrey Bruse, tax assessor-collector.

Not all registration certificates have been counted, she said, because of the many persons working to obtain registrations.

She said a final count will be ready by today.

News Brief

The junior high department of the First United Methodist Church is having a "parent's night" supper beginning at 6:30 p.m. Sunday, Feb. 8, to be followed with a youth program.

This will involve youth of the 7th, 8th and 9th grades and their parents.

Rise In Academic Standards Spells Trouble For Many Students

The raising of West Texas State University academic standards has caused an increase in the number of students in academic trouble, but a university officer feels that it is not to a point of being a serious problem.

Dr. Walter H. Juniper, WTSU academic vice-president, said Monday that 1,003 students were on academic probation at the end of the fall semester and an additional 626 were placed on academic suspension.

Dr. Juniper said that the end of the fall, 1968 semester there were 434 students on probation and 420 suspended. Total enrollment increased during the year's period from 7,269 to 7,935.

"I feel the increase in number of students in academic trouble is more to the increased standard of scholarship than to the increased number of students," Dr. Juniper said.

The administrator said that 1969 was the first year students were required to take nine semester hours and maintain a "C" average, rather than taking nine hours and just passing with a "D".

"We are not attempting to run a small 'Yale University,'" he said. "Our mission is to provide a good standard of education to the students."

Dr. Juniper said the number of students in academic trouble is not a major problem because their cases are "administered carefully."

"The student is given every opportunity to improve his work and remain at the university," he said.

To be removed from the classification of academic probation, a student must conform to three university rules:

- The student must complete with a "C" average the nine semester hours of residence work in one semester or three semester hours of residence work in one summer term.

- The student must achieve a 1.0 grade point average on all work attempted at WTSU.
- The student must request and complete a conference with his appropriate dean.

When a student is suspended for academic reasons, he must wait one semester for each he was on academic probation before he can return to school.

"A person is supposedly coming here to get something out of it, presumably a degree," Dr. Juniper said. "If it is apparent he is not then he is wasting his time and money and the state's time and money."

thing out of it, presumably a degree," Dr. Juniper said. "If it is apparent he is not then he is wasting his time and money and the state's time and money."

Tucker's Grades On Dean's List

Tommy Tucker of Canyon earned a 2.611 average for the fall semester 1969 at Cisco Junior College and will be listed on the Dean's Honor List which requires a grade point average of at least 2.500 under the 3-point system.

Engineer Joins Race

An Amarillo engineer has joined the race for the Precinct 2 seat now held by Clarence Beckman in the Potter County Commissioners Court, which will be vacated due to redistricting.

John A. Fulgenzi of 6704 Dreyfuss said he was running for the Republican nomination at the primary because "as fast as the community is expanding a county needs engineering advice and guidance that is readily available."

"I also feel that people should get involved in politics on every level," he said. "Too many people are not getting involved and letting others do their thinking for them."

A structural engineer, Fulgenzi has lived in Amarillo two years and is employed as a consultant with the new air terminal project. He did the engineering on the aerial tramway in Albuquerque, which is the 2nd largest clear span structure in the world.

He is a graduate of Oklahoma State and did graduate work at Regent Street Polytechnic in London. He is currently working on his doctorate at the University of New Mexico.

Fulgenzi is a member of St. Luke's Presbyterian Church in Amarillo and a sponsor of the church youth group. He is also active with Kids, Inc., and the American Society of Civil Engineers.

He is married and has two sons.

Mrs. Mary Williams was demonstrator for a cosmetic party Monday evening in the home of Mrs. E. E. Miller. Guests for the evening were Mrs. C. A. Dodson, Mrs. Jim Carter, Mrs. Carl Miller, Mrs. Frank Brooks and Miss Debbie Miller.

Accountant Files For Commission

An Amarillo accountant, Hubert L. Clark, filed just before the deadline Monday as a candidate in precinct 4.

B.J. Thomas Will Appear At Center

A Houston choir boy turned pop record star, B. J. Thomas, will appear at 8 p.m. Saturday in the Amarillo Civic Center auditorium.

Thomas is sponsored in part by the student activities council at West Texas State University.

The 24-year-old singer achieved recording fame recently for his version of "Raindrops Keep Fallin' On My Head," a song which was recorded for the motion picture "Butch Cassidy and the Sundance Kid."

Thomas has cut 14 single records and six albums. His first single, "I'm So Lonesome I Could Cry," was a hit in Houston before it was purchased by a record company.

He was voted the "Most Promising Male Vocalist" in Billboard's 1966 year-end edition.

Special ticket arrangements for the show for WTSU students have been made through the student activities council.

of the Randall County Commissioners Court.

Clark will face incumbent Bill Butler in the Republican primary.

Clark said he believes residents of the county should be allowed to vote on membership in the Panhandle Regional Planning Commission.

"My primary purpose in running is to help control the tax structure and a good many things I believe have been passed on which should have been put up to the people," Clark said.

A native of Amarillo, Clark is a 1942 graduate of Amarillo High School. He attended Abilene Christian College. He has lived in Randall County 20 years.

Clark and his wife, Gloria, have one daughter, of San Antonio.

He is a member of the South Amarillo Optimist Club, Big Brothers, and the Southlawn Church of Christ. He is also a Mason.

Braboy Seeks Court Spot

An Amarillo businessman filed Monday as a candidate for election to precinct 2 of the Randall County Commissioners Court, the place now held by retiring Clarence Beckman.

Neil Braboy, a county resident 17 years, is owner of Stanley's Drive Inn in Amarillo.

He seeks the post pending the May Republican primary.

A native of Wellington, Braboy graduated from Wellington High School in 1934 and attended business college in Amarillo. He has been an Amarillo resident 25 years and has owned Stanley's Drive Inn 20 years.

Braboy is a member of the Paramount Terrace Christian Church.

"I think I am qualified for the job in that I have 25 years of business experience," he said.

Braboy and his wife, Marie, have two daughters, Mrs. Ted Tucker of Joplin, Mo., and Patricia of the home.

7,000 Begin Enrollment At WT This Spring

Almost 7,000 students had started registration through Tuesday at West Texas State University, according to Dr. Donald Cates, registrar.

Dr. Cates said 6,583 students had begun registration at the university, a total of 519 more than the total for the same time last spring.

Eighty-five began registration Monday on the campus. Late registration ends Saturday.

Dr. Cates was not optimistic about reaching the 7,000 figure for total enrollment at the university this spring. He noted that many students drop out before the 12th class day and many don't pay fees.

"I'll be surprised if we break 7,000 for the official count," he said.

For the fall semester at WTSU, enrollment fell just two persons shy of the 8,000 mark, a record in university history.

Dr. Cates said the fall announcement of changes in selective service laws apparently had little effect on enrollment at the university.

He said for about five days following the first lottery draw, he had many male students withdrawing from school.

But, he noted the number was not significant.

Another Drug Suspect Nabbed By Sheriff

Randall County Sheriff L. S. "Slim" Johnson returned from California Saturday night with a 19-year-old man who was indicted along with 14 others as a result of the Jan. 16 drug raid in Amarillo.

Rickey Joe Witt of 1614 Lawson Lane in Amarillo was arraigned before Judge Gene Jordan Monday in 47th District Court. He is being held in Randall County jail in lieu of bonds totaling $7,000 for possession and sale of narcotics.

Witt was arrested in California the day of the drug raid by FBI agents. He had been indicted by a secret grand jury which met Jan. 15.

The drug raid came as the result of the undercover work of Mrs. Carolyn Carrison, 22, an Amarillo housewife who posed as a high school senior from September, 1969 until January of this year.

The testimony of Mrs. Carrison resulted in the grand jury returning 22 indictments against the 14 individuals.

long-standing and vocal opponent of the PRPC since its formation last fall.

Stroud also indicated that he is more interested in serving on the Randall County Commissioners Court than serving on the judge's bench.

He admitted he has no experience in law, juvenile or otherwise, and said "you have a county attorney down there who can advise me on that and besides most of the cases are likely to go on to a higher court anyway."

"I feel that as a property owner in Randall County that I have the interest of the citizens at heart and I know what the taxes are and the problems involved in operating a large business," Stroud said.

When asked if he had experience on the bench, Stroud replied that he had "sat on the city commission as chairman for about 300 meetings, which is probably as much as many judges."

"I would say I'm fairly familiar with juvenile laws in that I have to be apprised of these in the mayor's office."

He said he has followed various cases in courts and that "by the time the decision is made by the voters, I will be enough qualified to handle this job."

Stroud held a press conference Tuesday at which he issued the following statement on regional planning commissions:

"COG or regional planning is not limited to Texas or a few other states. It is a federal plan for regional government which transcends state lines and indeed is meant eventually to abolish states and replace them by regions. It is being initiated and put into operation all over the United States without the knowledge of the people where it is possible to do it. And, in those areas where the people are aware of what is happening and ask to be able to decide for themselves, they were adamantly denied that right just as the people here have been. That is the crux of my opposition to COG although I personally am against it and have voted against it. I feel the people should be allowed to make that choice."

"When our right to vote is gone, our Republic is gone."

Stroud will have one Republican opponent in the May primary.

Joseph "Buddy" Schley, an Amarillo attorney, said Tuesday he welcomes Stroud to the race "with enthusiasm."

Schley said "it is another indication of the strength of the two-party system of government in Texas."

"It is good that there will now be a choice within the parties as well as between the parties. I pledge myself to wage a vigorous, full-time campaign based on a debate of the issues affecting the Panhandle and Randall County. The Randall County voters will undoubtedly select the individual they feel best qualified."

The winner of the Republican primary will meet Woody Pond, county juvenile probation officer, in the November general election.

Stroud's announcement Monday apparently caught some Republicans by surprise.

Jim Campbell of Pampa, the deputy state chairman of the Republican Party of Texas, said Tuesday morning that Stroud had not consulted him before making the announcement.

"We did know he was interested," Campbell said. "But he did not talk to me about it."

Campbell said the Republican Party "did not go out looking for contested primaries," and that party leadership would have to remain "strictly neutral."

"Each candidate has to build his own organization," he said. "The Party will endorse the winner of the primary."

Campbell said the Republican Party leaders asked Joseph Schley, former municipal court judge in Amarillo, to run for the office because "he is well qualified."

"But there is always a chance of a contested race," Campbell said.

last fall to fill the new post by Gov. Preston Smith, will meet Jerry Kolander, an Amarillo attorney, in the primary.

In the 47th District Court race, incumbent Democrat E. E. "Gene" Jordan is alone in his bid.

Circumstances are just reversed in the race for the bench of Randall County. Woody Pond, current county juvenile probation officer, stands as the lone Democrat in that race. Joseph Schley, an Amarillo attorney, and Amarillo's Mayor J. Ernest Stroud will battle in the primary for the right to represent the Republican Party in November.

In the district attorney's race, Democrat incumbent George Dowlen will meet Republican Rhett Plank, a Canyon attorney, head-on in November.

Leroy Hutton is unopposed in his bid for a return to office as Randall County clerk. He is a Republican.

A battle will develop in November over the county treasurer's seat as Republican Margaret Trautmann takes on Democrat incumbent Ruth Hill.

On the county level, only the Republicans will vie for the right to sit in place four on the commissioner's court. Bill Butler, incumbent, will meet Hubert Clark in the primary.

Three are in the running for place two on the commissioner's court. The spot, which will be vacated by Clarence Beckman, is sought by Republicans Wayne Barfield, Neil S. Braboy and John A. Fulgenzi and Democrat Oth Miller.

Bill Wilson, incumbent Democrat, is alone in his bid for a return as Justice of the Peace in the county in precinct one. Likewise, W. W. Hancock, incumbent Democrat, seeks his precinct four position without opponent.

Mrs. Mavis Hill, incumbent Democrat, will seek a return as district clerk for the 47th and 181st District Courts with no opposition.

On the city level, Dr. Manly Bryan will take on Bernard Warren in the April elections for mayor.

Incumbent city commissioner Jim Christopher will meet Floyd Kiser in the elections and incumbent H. R. Fulton will be challenged by Dean Schaeffer.

scored 59 points.

Hankins, from Lawton, Okla., has been at West Texas for three years and hasn't played as he has been slowed by injuries.

Mailliard started for the first half of the season, but injured a knee and missed the last three games. Brown, in two years, intercepted eight passes. He lettered as a freshman playing flanker back. He's from Fort Worth and Redic is from Odessa.

Although Redic and Brown will miss the spring semester, they both plan to return to school in the summer in an effort to become eligible to play next fall.

local government needs their vote more than they need to help the Democratic Party select its nominee in the fall," Brooks said, referring to the tendency of many to vote in a primary just to vote against some party's candidate for office.

"There is no doubt in my mind that the Republican primary this year is the most critical election in the future of Amarillo and the area which has ever been held," he said.

Brooks himself has drawn an opponent as county chairman. Thomas D. Ritchey of 4643 Crockett in Amarillo seeks the spot.

One slate of precinct chair candidates—the one apparently sanctioned by officials of the Republican Party—includes the following:

Roland Chadwell, 4920 Princeton, Amarillo, precinct 21; Brooks Wilson, 3428 Marion, Amarillo, precinct 20; Jerry B. Deen, 6702 Dreyfuss, Amarillo, precinct 19; Mrs. Leonard Nussbaum, 3614 Paramount, Amarillo, precinct 18; Ralph Bruse, 3210 Hawthorne, Amarillo, precinct 16; Art Vaughn, 2705 Sunlite, Amarillo, precinct 17; Peggy Collins, 5115 Shield, Amarillo, precinct 14; Mrs. R. B. Parkinson, 4201 Washington, Amarillo, precinct 12; R. A. Bridges, 2903 S. Hodges, Amarillo, precinct 11; Terry Thomas, Route 2, precinct 10; Roy Davis, Route 2, precinct 9; Ocie Towery, 2923 Sundown, precinct 9; John L. Plank, Route 1, precinct 8; Jimmy Dale Killingsworth, 1909 2nd Ave., Canyon, precinct 7; Larry Hooper, Canyon, precinct 6; Weyman Brown, Canyon, precinct 5.

Those seeking precinct chairmanships, and according to Brooks, backed by the Wallace supporters are the following:

William T. Engle, Jr., 4701 Shawnee, Amarillo, precinct 21; M. B. Garlow, 3708 Torre Drive, Amarillo, precinct 20; Arthur Garner, 6706 Elmhurst, Amarillo, precinct 19; W. A. Meyers Jr., 4404 Charlene, Amarillo, precinct 17; Ralph Cooley, 3403 Lamar, Amarillo, precinct 16; Warren Marshall, 3204 Monroe, Amarillo, precinct 15; Frieda Anderson, 5309 Tumbleweed, Amarillo, precinct 14; Margaret Head, 4219 Hughes, Amarillo, precinct 13; Carroll Gustin, 4321 Gables, Amarillo, precinct 12; Fletcher Sims Jr., Canyon, precinct 7; Lester A. Smith, Canyon, precinct 6; and W. E. Lee, 1200 5th Ave., Canyon, precinct 5.

at the dump, clearing and burying trash.

Northcutt was quoted as saying a company in Hereford bid $40,000 to do the same job.

"When the city wants to put a foreman out there, let's do it," Fletcher said.

"What's the cost going to be to the county?" Brown asked. "I don't think we should pay for their dump."

"All we're talking about," Butler said, "is that after we clean up we want to withdraw."

Beckman said perhaps the county could pay a pro rata share of the cost for placing an additional man at the dump.

"If they charge for dumping, it seems like they could charge enough to pay for a man," Brown said.

"I don't see how they can make enough for three men," Beckman said.

No action was taken on the dump situation.

In other business Monday, Richard Devoe, a business instructor at West Texas State University told the county he will conduct a wage and job survey in the county for $1,500.

Devoe just completed a similar survey for the city of Canyon at a cost of $750. He said the county has twice the employees of the city.

No action was taken on Devoe's offer.

The commissioners also accepted gasoline bids from Gulf Oil Co.

Butler was allowed to purchase a track road grader for $27,025 from Associated Supply Co.
